As part of the UK's membership of the EU it is part of the Common Agriculture Policy (CAP), which pays subsidies to farmers and landowners in exchange for looking after the land and some environmental criteria (e.g. protecting wildlife areas and species and using fewer chemicals). When the UK leaves the EU the government will need to decide what sort of farming subsidies to replace the CAP with. Do you think...

British farming subsidies should put more emphasis on environmental protection than the current EU subsidies do.	25	31	21	23	22	32	32	21	25	26	28	26	24	24	28	22	32	26	26	23	19

Many wild areas and wildlife species in the UK are currently protected under European Union laws. When the UK leaves the EU these laws will no longer apply, and Britain will have set its own environmental and wildlife protection laws. Do you think...

Britain should pass laws providing a HIGHER level of protection for wild areas and wildlife species than the current EU laws.	46	47	46	47	40	49	43	55	49	44	44	48	47	42	47	45	46	46	49	44	44
